RIIFO Tubing

PEX is an acronym for: crosslinked high density polyethylene (HDPE) tubing. PEX tubing is created by melting HDPE and extruding it into continuous tubing to form a resilient, high performing product with impressive operating characteristics. Crosslinking HDPE causes the material to become stronger and resistant to cold temperature cracking or brittleness on impact while retaining its flexibility for efficient use in potable plumbing, radiant heating, and hydronic systems.

RIIFO PEX tubing meets the standards of ASTM F876, ASTM F877, ASTM F1281, CSA B137.5 and ASTM E84.

All RIIFO coils are center pull for "take what you need" lengths without the mess.
